Library Lessons Week 4

Every day, read an article, story, or chapter of a book. Then pick an activity from the list below! You can try a different activity every day, or repeat a favorite. Check back for more activities next week.

Fiction (a story that is made up):

- Think about your favorite part of the story. Then draw a picture of it.
- Think about a problem that a character in the story is having. What advice would you give to a character in this story? Write it.
- Think about what happened in the story. Draw pictures of what happens in the beginning, the middle, and the end.
- Pretend you are going to talk to one of the characters in the story. What questions would you ask them?
- If you could recommend this book to someone, who would it be? Why do you think they would like it? Write about why they should read it.

Nonfiction (a book or article that teaches you about true things):

- What is one new thing that you learned from what you read? Write or draw about it.
- What is one question you would like to ask the author of the book or article? Write it.
- Would you like to read more books or articles about this topic? Why or why not? Write about it.
- What is something you learned from the article or book that surprised you? Write about it.
- If you could recommend this book or article to someone, who would it be? Why do you think they would like it? Write about why they should read it. Take me back to Scholastic Learn at Home!

 SCHOLASTIC

Grades 3-5: Daily Reading Quests

Each day, read an article, story, or chapter of a book. Then choose one of the daily reading challenges below! You can try a new activity every day, or repeat a favorite. Stay tuned for more ideas next week.

- Choose a scene or section from what you just read and turn it into a comic strip or graphic novel. Be sure to include speech bubbles, thought balloons, and bursts for sound effects.
- Write a letter to the author of what you just read. Explain what your favorite part was, and ask the author one or more questions about what you would still like to know.
- Use the following conversation starters to share what you just read with a family member or friend.
 - As I was reading, I was wondering about...
 - This reading helped me better understand...
 - As I was reading, I felt... because...
 - I was surprised that...
 - One lesson I learned is...
- Choose a quote from what you just read. Use that quote as the first line of your own song or poem. Have fun and be creative!
- Imagine you are making a YouTube video to tell other kids about what you just read. Think about what was important, exciting, or interesting about it, and prepare a fabulous two- to three-minute presentation. You can even use props or costumes if you want! Then deliver your presentation for your family, or record it on a phone and show it to them.
