Parent Support Center expands, relocates to North Parkway Middle

Parenting classes, financial literacy, and grief support among new services

Due to an increasing need within our schools and the community, our Parent Support Center (previously known as the Family Resource Center) has expanded to offer parents a diverse range of supports to impact student success. Now housed at North Parkway Middle School, the Parent Support Center offers GED courses, parenting classes, financial literacy, and grief support. Additionally, food boxes and hygiene items are also available for families in need throughout the school year. We could not assist families in overcoming their unique challenges without the support of generous community partners like Leaders Credit Union, United Way of West Tennessee, and Wellpoint. Parents are encouraged to use the Let's Talk platform to request assistance. Visit www.jmcss.org/letstalk to get started.
